

Ann Winchester

I've been painting and teaching for twenty-five years. I love to both create art work and work with my adult students as we explore rendering all kinds of subjects in watercolor together. Watercolor is an exciting, versatile medium, and I have learned teaching it is an art in itself. I still occasionally paint commissioned portraits, and my portraits have won three best of show honors among other awards from the Fort Worth Society of Watercolor Artists. You can view more paintings at www.winchester.faso.com. Ongoing classes are available.

Workshop following our PPAG meeting 1:30 to 4:30 pm Cost $35. Minimum of 5 participants.
